Beyond the Electoral Roll

The importance of the SIR does not end with who is listed on the electoral roll and who is able to vote. A voter identity card, and more generally a person's position within the electoral system, has acquired importance in everyday dealings with the state beyond the polling place.

The situation in West Bengal has made this particularly apparent. Deleted or affected electors have faced problems with procedures not directly connected with voting, including renewing passports, obtaining domicile or residence certificates, accessing the Public Distribution System and other welfare schemes. Questions about electoral roll status have also interfered with students' ability to secure domicile, and consequently their eligibility for educational opportunities, including hard-earned MBBS seats.

Removal from the electoral roll does not in itself cancel a person's citizenship or legal right to public services. However, administrative systems do not always function separately. Electoral documents may be used as proof of identity, residence or domicile; deletion may therefore place additional burdens on those concerned.

These burdens may not fall equally. Requirements relatively easy for permanently settled, properly documented and economically secure households can be much harder for migrant workers, students, elderly persons, persons with disabilities and households with limited access to documents and public institutions.

It is precisely this possibility that leads Sabar Institute to analyse SIR data. Our aim goes beyond counting deletions; it is to detect patterns of disproportionate impact by constituency, polling station, gender, recorded reason, geography and other relevant characteristics.

Disparity alone does not prove discrimination or administrative misconduct. Instead, disproportionate outcomes signal where further investigation, safeguards or corrective measures may be necessary.

We are committed to downloading, open-sourcing and analysing SIR deletions across India. But the scale of this task is far greater than the capacity of our small, independent and wholly crowdfunded team. We have the commitment. We have demonstrated that the work can be done. What we need are the resources to take it to the scale it deserves.

Help us take this work across India.

Conclusion & Way Forward p305

Source: Election Commission of India — the ASD (absent, shifted, dead and duplicate) list for each of the 288 constituencies, extracted from the part-wise "uncollectable elector" reports of the SIR-2026 draft roll; CEO Maharashtra's constituency table (as on 31 August 2026); ECI statistical reports for the 2024 assembly election; TCPD (2019 results); Census of India 2011.

Executive Summary

Maharashtra's Special Intensive Revision left 20,688,421 names off the SIR-2026 draft roll: one in five (21.1 per cent) of the 97,854,049 electors on the roll just before the revision. This report examines every one of those names against the 2024 assembly results and Census 2011.

MOST OF THOSE REMOVED ARE ALIVE

Deaths account for only 16.8% of deletions. The other 17,206,190 people (83%) were marked permanently shifted, untraceable or absent, or already enrolled elsewhere. 46 per cent of these living voters are under 40.

TWO YOUNG WOMEN MARKED "SHIFTED" FOR EVERY YOUNG MAN OUTSIDE MUMBAI

Outside Mumbai, among voters aged 18 to 29 marked "permanently shifted", 822,798 were women and 379,991 men: 2.2 women for every man. This is consistent with women moving to a husband's home after marriage, who must then re-enrol at the new address. In Mumbai the young deletions lean male, which fits migrant workers.

MUMBAI AND ITS SATELLITE CITIES CARRY THE HEAVIEST LOSSES

Mumbai's 36 constituencies have 11% of the state's electors but 17% of its deletions; deletions there equal 34.7% of the electorate, against 19.5% elsewhere. Thane district lost 35.4%. In Colaba more names were deleted than votes were cast in 2024 (1.01 times the 2024 vote); 22 more seats in Mumbai, Thane, Palghar and Pune reached 75–100 per cent.

THE STAKES ARE ELECTORAL

Non-death deletions exceed the 2024 winning margin in 190 of 288 seats. The "untraceable / absent" category alone, which rests on a booth officer's judgement, exceeds it in 95. There is no sign of an alliance pattern: after controlling for Mumbai, region, reservation, urbanisation and electorate size, MVA-held seats differ from Mahayuti-held seats by –0.27 points ($p = 0.82$). The strongest predictor is low 2024 turnout ($\rho = -0.81$), a mark of stale rolls.

THE BURDEN IS UNEVEN

Muslim-named electors are 14.6% of deletions, above a census expectation of 12.1%; their odds of being removed as "already enrolled" rather than as dead are 2.07 times those of other electors of the same age in the same seat. Third-gender electors were hit hardest of all: 3,250 were deleted, 53.3% of the 6,101 on the 2024 roll. Urbanisation, not caste or religious composition, explains most of the district pattern.

This is a preliminary report on the list of names left off the draft roll; some of those people will have re-applied and may appear on the final roll. Correlation is not causation.

Key Insights at a Glance

The most striking findings, in plain words.

1 in 5

One in every five voters on Maharashtra's pre-revision roll was placed on the ASD list: about 2.07 crore people.

83%

Most of them are alive. Only 17 in every 100 were removed because they had died.

2 : 1

Outside Mumbai, among 18–29 year olds marked "shifted", two women were deleted for every man.

53.3%

Third-gender voters were deleted at two and a half times the state rate: 3,250 of the 6,101 on the 2024 roll.

17%

Mumbai has 11% of the state's electors but 17% of its deletions; it lost 34.7% of its roll.

Colaba

More names were deleted in Colaba than people voted there in 2024.

190 of 288

In two out of three seats, more living voters were removed than the number of votes that decided the 2024 winner.

2.07×

Muslim-named voters were far more likely to be marked "already enrolled elsewhere" than other voters of the same age in the same seat.

No alliance

There is no sign that one alliance's seats were singled out once Mumbai and urbanisation are accounted for.

21.4% · 21.2%

Overall, women and men were removed at almost exactly the same rate.

Deletions & Coverage

ASD deletions for every district, extracted from ECI's part-wise reports for the SIR-2026 draft roll. Per-seat totals match the CEO Maharashtra's own table in 287 of 288 seats; the only gap is 66 rows in Mumbadevi, missing from ECI's own PDFs. "Electors" is the CEO's pre-revision roll. 51 of 1,00,216 polling parts have no published report.

DELETION REASON BY AGE GROUP

Donut labels show each category's share of all deletions. Column labels show the number of deletions (k = thousand, M = million); band totals are printed below each column. Death dominates only above 70. Among the under-40s, who make up 39% of all deletions, 97% are recorded as shifted, absent or already enrolled. Religion is estimated from names, as explained on page 12.

Mumbai & the Geography of Deletions

ONE CITY AND ITS SATELLITES, A THIRD OF THE DELETIONS

Mumbai's 36 constituencies hold 11% of Maharashtra's electors but account for 17% of all deletions. Non-death deletions there equal 30.1% of the electorate, against 16.1% in the rest of the state. Every Mumbai seat lost at least 21.1%. Outside the city, 55 seats pass 20 per cent, most of them in Thane (15), Pune (13), Nagpur (8) and Nashik (5). Thane district, which lost 35.4 per cent, tops the list. The fewest went in Hingoli 6.6%, Gadchiroli 6.6%, Sindhudurg 6.7%.

Alliance, Turnout & Margin

NO ALLIANCE PATTERN SURVIVES MUMBAI AND URBANISATION

Pooled across all seats, constituencies won by the MVA in 2024 lost 18.5% of their electors to non-death deletions, against 17.6% for the Mahayuti. That gap comes from Mumbai, where the MVA won 14 of its 50 seats. Outside Mumbai the order flips (Mahayuti 16.5%, MVA 14.5%), because the Mahayuti holds most of the Thane–Pune belt. After controlling for Mumbai, region, reservation, urbanisation and electorate size, MVA seats differ from Mahayuti seats by –0.27 points (p = 0.82).

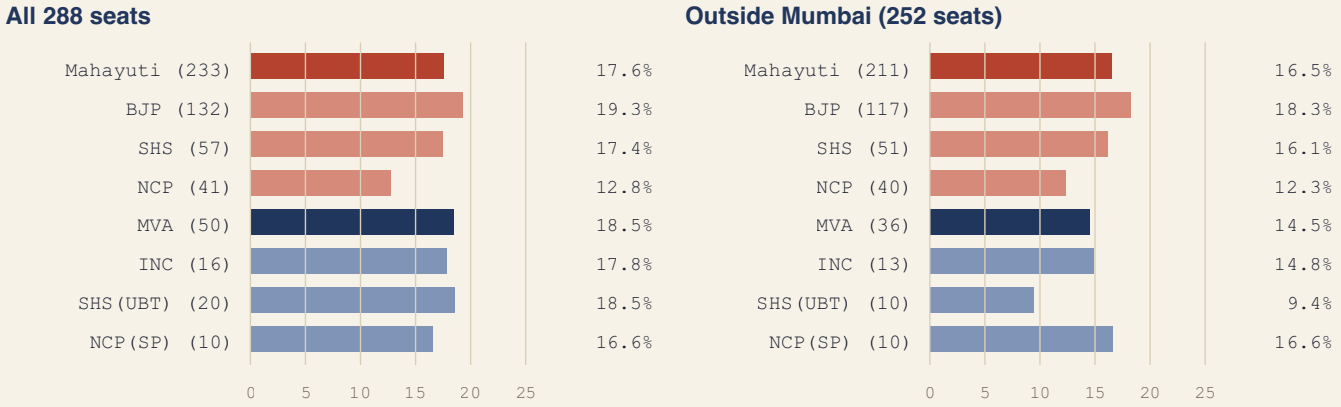

Figure 2. Non-death deletions ÷ pre-revision electors, pooled by the alliance and party that won the seat in 2024. Scale 0–25%.

WHERE FEWER PEOPLE VOTED, MORE NAMES WENT

Turnout in 2024 is the strongest predictor in the data (Spearman ρ = –0.81; –0.74 outside Mumbai). Each point of lower turnout goes with 0.83 points more non-death deletions.

Women & the Deletions

OUTSIDE MUMBAI, TWO YOUNG WOMEN MARKED "SHIFTED" FOR EVERY YOUNG MAN

2.2 : 1 Outside Mumbai, among voters aged 18 to 29 marked "permanently shifted", 822,798 were women and 379,991 men. In Mumbai the young deletions lean male: 76,848 women against 85,167 men.

Overall, women and men lost their names at almost the same rate: 21.4% of the women and 21.2% of the men on the 2024 roll. The picture changes once deaths are set aside. Women are only 42.5% of those removed as dead but 49.8% of the living voters removed. Outside Mumbai, 51.2% of living voters removed are women; in Mumbai, 43.4%. This fits women moving to a husband's home after marriage and being struck off at their parents' address, while Mumbai's losses are dominated by male migrant workers.

Few of those removed died. Death accounts for 3.7% of third-gender deletions against 16.8% for women and men. Most were marked "untraceable / absent" (54.9% against 37.5%), the category that rests most on a booth officer's judgement. The people removed are young: 75% are under 40. Unlike Karnataka, ECI publishes third-gender electors per seat for Maharashtra, so seat-level shares can be calculated. In Malad West, 313 of 345 were removed.

Deletions & Religion

COMPOSITION OF THE DELETED POPULATION

Muslim-named electors account for 14.6% of the 20,688,421 deletions in Maharashtra (3,020,173 names). If deletions in each district fell evenly across religions, Census 2011 would lead us to expect about 12.1%. The share ranges from 3.4 per cent in Gondiya to 27.3 per cent in Aurangabad and tracks each district's Muslim population closely (r = 0.92). In most districts the share of deletions sits a few points above the 2011 population share. Muslim-named voters are 21.3% of deletions in Mumbai and 13.2% elsewhere.

MUSLIM-NAMED SHARE OF DELETIONS, BY DISTRICT (2011 BOUNDARIES)

A NOTE ON THE CLASSIFICATION

We use SABAR Institute's in-house name-based religion classifier, re-tested on Maharashtra names. Every word occurring at least 30 times was checked against the names of the relatives it appears with, and one fixed rule decided which words to keep. That rule dropped words shared with Marathi Hindu names, such as SARDAR, SAMEER and the -SAHEB forms, and added local family names such as MULANI, TAMBOLI and PINJARI. The classifier considers both the elector's name and the name of their parent or spouse. It is a statistical estimate, used only for aggregate figures.

Religion & the Recorded Reason

THE REASON ENTERED AGAINST EACH GROUP

The four recorded reasons are not distributed alike. Death accounts for 17.7 per cent of other deletions but 11.8 per cent of Muslim-named ones. The difference is taken up by the categories that rest on a booth officer's judgement or on name-matching: "already enrolled" duplicates form 12.3 per cent of Muslim-named deletions against 7.9 per cent of others, and untraceable or absent 38.6 against 37.3 per cent.

COMPARING LIKE WITH LIKE: SAME SEAT, SAME AGE

Deaths skew old (67% are over 60) and Maharashtra's Muslim population is younger, so a raw comparison with deaths overstates the gaps. Comparing people in the same constituency and the same ten-year age band, the duplicate gap survives almost intact; the absent gap shrinks but remains.

REASON (VS DEATHS)	MUSLIM-NAMED SHARE	EXPECTED (SAME SEAT & AGE)	ODDS RATIO	STRICT CHECK
Already enrolled	21.0%	11.7%	2.07×	2.06×
Untraceable / absent	15.0%	11.4%	1.40×	1.40×
Permanently shifted	14.7%	12.6%	1.13×	1.13×

Mantel–Haenszel odds ratios, stratified by seat × age band; all 95% intervals exclude 1. Strict check: both voter's and relative's names classified Muslim. Under the strict rule the duplicate share exceeds the death share in 285 of 288 seats.

WHAT THIS SHOWS AND WHAT IT DOES NOT

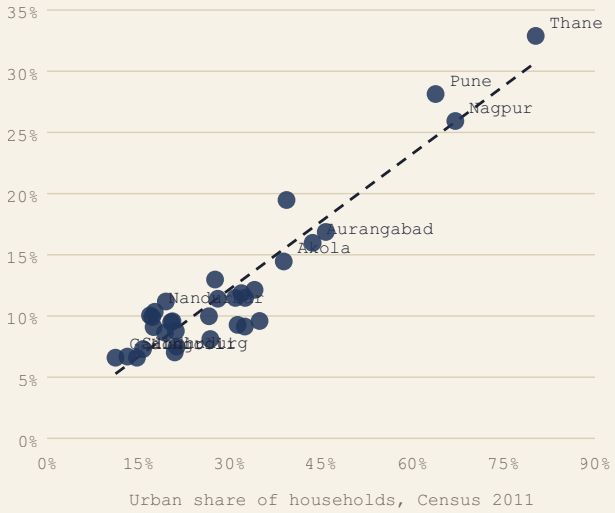

Muslim-named electors are over-represented among deletions overall, and most of all among "already enrolled" duplicates. That pattern holds in almost every seat and under the strict check. One possible mechanism is name-based duplicate matching, since Muslim names here concentrate on fewer words (SHAIKH, KHAN, SAYYED, PATHAN). Maharashtra's list does not say which other registration a duplicate repeats, so this could not be tested. None of this proves that any group was targeted. It shows where an audit of individual duplicate deletions would be best placed.

Caste, Religion & Deletions

URBANISATION, NOT COMMUNITY SHARE, DRIVES THE DISTRICT PATTERN

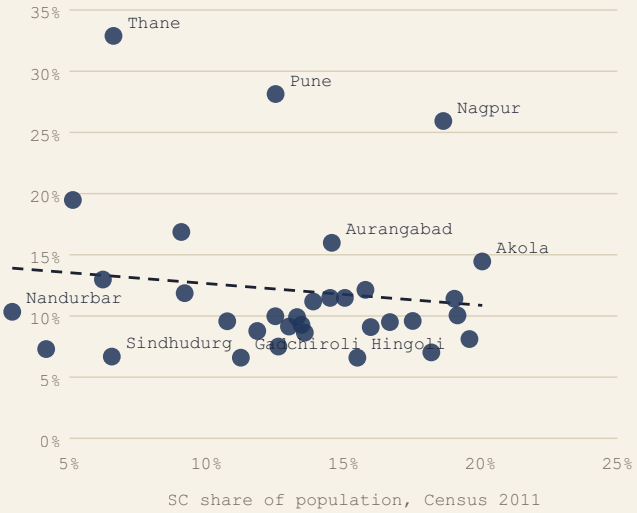

Each dot below is a district, placed by its 2011 population share and the share of its electors removed for reasons other than death. Mumbai City and Mumbai Suburban are left out because their very high deletion rates would hide every other pattern. Outside Mumbai, how urban a district is predicts deletions far better than anything else. Districts with a larger Scheduled Caste or Buddhist population did not lose more voters. Muslim share shows a weak raw link, which turns negative once urbanisation is taken into account.

Top 50 Surnames

THE MOST COMMON LAST NAMES AMONG DELETIONS, STATEWIDE

Most Maharashtra names end in a family name: 99.7 per cent of deletions have a usable last word, against about half in Karnataka. There are 566,203 distinct last words; the ten most common cover 15.8 per cent of named deletions and the top 50 cover 30.1 per cent.

Read with care. These are the most common surnames among deleted voters, not a measure of which communities were removed more often; that needs the full roll. Names shared by many people (SHAIKH, KHAN, PATIL) rank high, Mumbai lifts names common there, and spellings are not merged. Do not use this list to infer caste or religion. * Among voters with gender recorded by ECI.

Findings in Numbers

One in five Maharashtra electors was placed on the ASD list. Most are living people, a third of them are in Mumbai and its satellite cities, and the least verifiable categories fall unevenly.

Total ASD deletions	20,688,421 across 288 constituencies: 21.1% of pre-revision electors
Not deaths	17,206,190 (83%); deaths are 16.8%
Untraceable / absent	37.5%: the largest reason
Permanently shifted	37.1%
Already enrolled	8.5%
Mumbai	17% of deletions with 11% of electors; 34.7% deleted
Alliance	No effect after controls: MVA vs Mahayuti −0.27 points ($p = 0.82$)
Turnout	Strongest predictor: $\rho = -0.81$
Against the 2024 margin	Non-death deletions exceed it in 190 of 288 seats
Against the 2024 vote	Deletions exceed votes cast in Colaba; 75–100% in 22 more seats
Women	Same overall rate as men (21.4% vs 21.2%); outside Mumbai, young "shifted": 2.2 women per man
Third gender	3,250 deleted: 53.3% of the 6,101 on the 2024 roll
Muslim-named share	14.6% of deletions (census expectation 12.1%)
Already enrolled, by group	2.07× odds for Muslim-named, same seat and age
Urbanisation	Urban share $\rho = 0.83$: the strongest district-level link
Most common surname	SHAIKH: 753,978 deletions (3.6%); top 50 cover 30.1% of named deletions

No religion-wise or caste-wise electorate is available, so none of the group figures is a rate of removal from the roll.

Constituency-level differences merit closer examination; Part II has a chapter page for each of the 288 constituencies.

Conclusion & Way Forward

The Special Intensive Revision of voter rolls taking place in India in 2025 and 2026 is the largest voter roll deletion exercise in human history. The scale is extraordinary. In Maharashtra alone, more than two crore names were left off the draft roll; the number of non-death deletions exceeds the total population of several countries.

The consequences of SIR extend far beyond the right to vote. Electoral roll status can become connected with access to government services and documentation. The cases examined by Sabar Institute indicate difficulties involving passport renewal, the Public Distribution System, domicile and residence certificates, education, land transactions, vehicle registration and other administrative processes. Prolonged uncertainty over electoral status can also create financial stress, psychological distress and disruption to family life.

Delays in adjudication and appeals are another serious concern. Citizens who remain under adjudication may spend long periods without a clear resolution. A right to appeal has limited meaning if people cannot access legal assistance, understand procedures, obtain documents or afford repeated visits to administrative offices. Accessible and effective legal aid is therefore essential, particularly for economically vulnerable citizens.

The burden may not fall equally. Migrant workers, women who change residence after marriage, students, elderly people, persons with disabilities, third gender electors and people without continuous documentary records can face greater difficulties in documentation heavy verification systems. The use of algorithms, automated tools and logical discrepancy filters also requires transparency, independent examination and meaningful human review.

Sustained media coverage is essential to document individual experiences, administrative problems and wider social consequences. Aggregate numbers alone cannot explain what happens to people after deletion.

Civil society engagement is equally important. Researchers, lawyers, universities, community organisations and independent institutions should assist affected citizens, document cases, analyse patterns and examine whether particular groups experience disproportionate burdens.

The implementation and consequences of SIR also require serious discussion in Parliament through debates, questions, committees and other mechanisms of democratic oversight.

Finally, an independent countrywide study of SIR is urgently required. It should examine deletions, non death deletions, restorations, appeals, adjudication delays, demographic and regional patterns, documentary requirements, the use of algorithms, and the social and economic consequences of exclusion.

Maintaining accurate electoral rolls is necessary, but accuracy must be accompanied by transparency, accountability, accessible appeals, legal aid and protection against wrongful exclusion.
